PRESIDENT'S PAGE

NALC at the Headquarters level and the Postal Service have agreed to establish an alternate route evaluation and adjustment process for the remainder of 2022 and all of 2023. The Memorandum of Understanding Re: Technology Integrated Alternate Route Evaluation and Adjustment Process 2022 – 2023 (TIAREAP) establishes a process that utilizes information made available using Digital Street Review (DSR) technology as the primary means to evaluate and adjust city delivery routes. As in previous alternate route evaluation and adjustment processes, TIAREAP will involve multiple teams established throughout the country, comprised of one NALC representative and one USPS representative, who will jointly evaluate and adjust routes in select zones. Once the joint teams have been selected, training and zone selection will take place shortly afterward, with evaluations beginning in September.

I have appointed East City Union Steward and Formal A Representative Charles Sanders and Branch 78 Law Committee member and Westland carrier Chris Semo to the Route Evaluation and Adjustment Team for Columbus. I have asked the Union Stewards at each station if they believe their zip code should be added to the list of zones to be inspected.

The City Delivery and Workplace Improvement Task Force in the 2019-2023 National Agreement tasked the national parties with jointly exploring the use of technology, data, advanced analytics and machine learning to improve operations, route evaluation, adjustment and optimization. Agreement to implement the Technology Integrated Alternate Route Evaluation and Adjustment process comes after more than 14 months of joint exploration and testing of the utilization of DSR technology to evaluate and adjust routes.

The Branch has recently received favorable decisions on several regional arbitrations. I would like to briefly review some of the decisions. Arbitrator Reehl ruled that former Columbus Postmaster Brad Grubb improperly halted the Intervention Agreement for the Joint Clock Ring Audit Process. Grubb unilaterally stopped the Union from reviewing the clock rings for Columbus carriers that was agreed to by the National Business Agent, District manager and Area Labor Relation. Arbitrator Reehl reinstated the process and ruled that any carrier that was not paid the money owed to them would be reimbursed at 1 ½ times the amount owed for each discrepancy.

The Branch took two cases to Regional Arbitration regarding management continually requiring Columbus letter carriers to work beyond 12 hours per day or 60 hours per week. The branch has filed over one hundred grievances on this issue. Vice President Mark Beach has prepared Branch Class Action grievance each pay period for the Installation of Columbus for over a year now. The Columbus Dispute Resolution Team (DRT) has issued dozens of cease-and-desist decisions instructing management to stop violating the 12- and 60-hour limits.

The first decision the branch received was from Arbitrator Sims. Sims stated once again management should abide by the DRT decisions and not require carriers to work beyond the 12-

At the April membership meeting, we discussed the cancellation of the NALC Food Drive for the Columbus Installation due to lack of staffing. This decision came after a lengthy discussion with the Branch Executive Board, stewards, membership, Business Agent and NALC Headquarters. With only one member of the Executive Board opposing the decision, the stewards and membership discussing the matter and supporting the recommendation, we announced the decision to cancel. I apologize to any carrier in Columbus that this decision did not reach before the day of the Food Drive. We asked the Branch 78 Associate Offices to carry the load and they did so by collecting over 13,000 pounds of food. This along with a donation from the membership of $3,000 dollars that was matched by NALC National equated to 82,000 pounds of food being donated. A source in management (under the condition of anonymity) reported that 41 routes in the Columbus Installation did not get carried on the day of the Food Drive.

Speaking of staffing related issues, the NALC and the USPS have been exchanging offers to improve the hiring package to try and help staffing in specific areas like Columbus. From what we understand the USPS is holding up the process due to not wanting to convert CCAs in some areas prior to hiring new employees as Part-Time flexible. This is a non-starter for the NALC as they have vowed to not sell any of its members out. Hopefully, the USPS can soon come around and sign a memo so we can start attracting enough new employees to properly staff the installation.

It was announced that POOM of area E, Bradley Grubb, will be assigned a position in Florida District 3. This is interesting since the current Florida District Manager is former Ohio 2 District Manager, Jean Lovejoy. During Mr. Grubb's time in overseeing Area 2 offices represented by Branch 78, there was a trend of changing carrier clock rings to the improper mods code thus covering up street time. The union filed several grievances in multiple offices under Grubb for falsification and received favorable rulings from the DRT team admonishing and chastising management's improper actions. None of this manipulation lead back directly to Mr. Grubb, but he was clearly aware of this falsification and did nothing to reprimand his Postmasters. In fact, the Union noted that in many of these cases, Postmasters received promotions after such actions. When he was acting Postmaster of Columbus, Mr. Grubb ended two major audit processes unilaterally and without authority. The union filed grievances on both matters and won not only at the DRT level, but in front of two independent arbitrators after Mr. Grubb failed to recognize the authority of the DRT team to make that ruling. It will be interesting to see if this manipulation occurs with less frequency now that he is off to the sunshine state.

Concerning the clock ring audit process, offices have turned over a half years worth of timecards to the union in late May. Initial reviews of these timecards show a plethora of employees not being paid or paid incorrectly. This really shoots down management's argument that the process was no longer needed. We lost many new employees because when they received their paycheck they were shorted hours and just quit. If you are a new employee or using a 1260 because they are making you work in multiple offices, please monitor your hours and let your union steward know if you aren't being paid correctly.

At the June membership meeting the branch celebrated Memorial Day and the memory of fellow letter carrier brothers and sisters who have left us over the last year. Gone but not forgotten, we need to always celebrate and remember those who paved the way before us and helped progress our rights to the level they are at today.

MILLER'S MUSINGS

Yana Miller-Farney

Try as I might to focus on pleasant messages it seems impossible considering the horrible state of mankind. It's difficult to watch the news, easier to listen on radio. There are so many things that a joint effort in local, state and federal governments could work to improve for their constituents but they seem to play with individuals lives more than improving our infrastructure. Many more people could work at living wage jobs if they would start to fix our streets, freeways and bridges. My car has safety features to inform when you cross over painted lines. I fear this will wear out sooner than later because of trying to avoid potholes that could seriously disable your vehicle. This may cause weeks or months of delay to repair due to lack of parts. It's like training for a vehicle obstacle course race with no course map. I'm ready to disable that damn feature. I won't list the many more negatives, as we're all too aware of the pain and suffering. There is no excuse for anyone to go hungry in this land that pays farmers not to produce food. Let me stop but ask all to pray for those going through a myriad of recent disasters.

Our postal service, hailed as one of the greatest, most efficient and cheapest in the world, is slowly sinking. As said in the past what is agreed to in L'Enfant Plaza seldom trickles down to the local level. We have swinging door postmasters here in Columbus, which is a good thing when you look at some of the policies recently attempted. We have too many routes that do not get carried daily to send carriers to Cincinnati, that was Grubb's plan. I was not sad to see him depart, who knows what the new PM will do. After all the grievances filed and won over work hour limits, it continues to be an issue. The same goes for clock ring errors. Managers just don't take the decisions of the Arbitrators serious. It is no wonder some of their award documents sound like WHAT PART of THIS DO YOU NOT UNDERSTAND? Because they hear the same grievances over and over and find in the Branch's favor. This helps monetarily but you can't get the time with your family back. How many family events do you have to miss before you chuck it to quit or retire.

What is being done by Postal Inspector teams to stop the thefts of arrow keys? It has reached the point that you must take your outgoing mail inside a retail unit to ensure it isn't stolen. We've had two bill payments stolen from City Gate outside collection boxes. We are not alone from talking with others we find many more have experienced the same. Online bill pay has been decreasing First Class mail for many years. These thefts have forced more people to choose that route because they have no time or interest in finding a retail office, park, go inside to mail a letter. If you're lucky and have a carrier that will take your outgoing mail that's an option. When it's raining for days I don't want my letters in their wet bags. Might it be time to seek another way to to replace arrow keys? At least try to find other options.

Trying to keep the employees we have, what is upper management willing to do to retain staff? You know which station managers have the highest retention rates, find out what they are doing different to retrain the ones that can't keep new hires. Instead of multiple telecoms get in those stations and work on the weak managers to improve their management skills or lack there of.

Retirement, oh so joyous to have reached that stage of life, at least it should have been. The insanity continues. Early April, April Fools Day to be exact, Eagan inand 60-hour limits. Sims instructed management to post the language found in the Joint Contract Administration Manual (JCAM) on pages 8-18 to 8-21 regarding work hour limits at each station in Columbus. The second decision the branch received was from Arbitrator Widgeon. Arbitrator Widgeon ruled that management had violated the national agreement by failing to abide by DRT Step B decisions. The arbitrator noted that management had failed to abide by cease-and-desist orders in the past. She ruled that each affected carrier would receive an additional remedy of a lump sum payment for management failing to comply with the DRT Step B decisions. This decision affects hundreds of carriers in the Installation of Columbus.
